TERRIFIC QUAKES AGAIN ROCK MESSINA; PEOPLE FLEE IN TERROR FROM CITY

EIGHT SHOCKS COMPLETE RUIN OF RECENT TEMBLORS

Panic Follows and Inhabitants Leave Their Homes to Dwell in Open Under Trees in Country

MESSINA, July 1.—Six months after the devastating earthquake of December 28, which laid waste more than a score of cities and towns in Calabria and Sicily and killed 200,000 persons, Messina and Reggio were again visited this morning by an earthquake, which, had they been rebuilt, would have laid them a second time in ruins.

Reports are alarming, but they cannot be verified. So far as is positively known only a few people were hurt. One woman was killed by a falling wall and a child was seriously injured.

While minor shocks have been of recent occurrence in Sicily in the last six months, last night they became more serious and caused much alarm. The most severe quakes came at 7:20 and 7:25 this morning and were similar to the fatal disturbance, being accompanied by the same roaring noises.

The population again fled in fear, turning to the open plains of the city and the surrounding country, praying that their lives might be spared.

5,000 Population

Gradually, as the confidence of the people returned, Messina had acquired a population of something more than 20,000, but today the people again are in terror and do not feel themselves safe even in the temporary houses erected for their shelter and have fled to the country, preferring the shelter of trees and caves to the danger of the city. They lack food and covering and are scattered in desolate groups. Sailors, soldiers and policemen have throughout the district to prevent and give courage to the

Shocks Recorded

Between 8 o'clock last night and 7:20 a.m. eight shocks were recorded at the observatory. The instruments at the observatory registered a total of ten shocks of varying severity since 7:20 a.m. The first was received from the provinces indicating that damage has been wrought, but it is as yet impossible to estimate the extent of the disaster.

Light Shocks Felt

MESSINA, July 1.—Earth shocks both here and at Reggio at 9:20 a.m. this morning created a panic among the people of these two cities. The people of these two cities fled from the streets towards the open country. A woman and child slept under the wreckage sustained serious injury, the woman subsequently dying.

The earth shocks have been becoming more intense recently. The shocks of this morning are undulating and accompanied by deep roaring sounds. The first was followed by an explosion like the roar of cannon and lasted between 8 and 10 seconds.

It is said that this quake was of greater severity than the fatal one of the night of December 28th. The wooden houses and huts erected for the accommodation of the people seemed to be thrown from side to the other. Girls filled the air as the people fled to one side of the road. Detachments with carbines were detached to protect the wooden huts built American money, but which had not yet been distributed. The population, living in the districts where walls threatened to fall upon them, rushed toward American huts with the intention of taking forcible possession of them. Between 8 o'clock last night and 7:20 a.m. a total of eight shocks were experienced. Later reports from Messina state that a wounded number ten, including a tenant, two soldiers and two carbines.

Pastors Not Included

Rev. Macon and Rev. White were specifically excluded from what the Mayor had to say to Burke. Their conduct was described as gentlemanly and courteous, and their attitude on the saloon question met with approbation.

Burke's attitude was such, however, as to jeopardize what chances the Anti-Saloon League had in bringing about a change. The Mayor did not mince words in telling Burke that he was persona non grata and that his arrogation to himself of all the virtue and honor of the community was far from pleasing, and that possibly the chief executive of the city was possessed of a modicum of sincerity, truth and straightforwardness.

At that time, however, Mayor Mott was not aware that Burke in the directory described himself as a Ph. D., or doctor of philosophy, and also as superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, instead of its secretary. These facts might have borne great weight especially in substantiating the claim of Burke that there was a corner on morality and honesty dealing in saloon matters and that Mayor Mott was not in on the corner.

W. M. Burke, secretary of the Anti-Saloon League, who, in conjunction with Rev. Clifton Macon and Rev. G. W. White, called on Mayor Mott relative to the saloon question yesterday, cast so many aspersions on the intentions and motives of the Mayor that the Mayor replied in language so vigorous that no misconception could be placed on his meaning.

In effect, Burke accused the Mayor of bad faith. The Mayor resented the imputation hotly and charged the Anti-Saloon League with impertinence and impudence.

TRIES TO KILL BABE AS SHE FEARED SHE WOULD

Stopped by Neighbors as She Flourishes Knife Over Infant's Throat

HAD PREMONITION OF IMPENDING DANGER

Told Hospital Steward She Expected to go Insane and Slay Her Child

Waving a murderous-looking butcher knife over her head in a sudden attack of insanity this morning, Mrs. Stella Nelson, the beautiful nineteen-year-old wife of John Nelson, a laborer, living at 210 East Eighth street, attempted to take the life of her nine-months-old child. Neighbors hearing the baby's screams rushed into the Nelson home to find the maddened mother bending over the little one's crib with her fingers on its throat and the knife in her upraised hand.

The police were summoned and the hysterical woman, after a frenzied battle with the officers, was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where she is held. She will be taken before the board of insanity commissioners tomorrow morning.

FEARED INSANITY

That Mrs. Nelson had a strong premonition that she was bordering on insanity and feared, lest restrained, she would kill her child, is attested by the fact that yesterday afternoon she called at the Receiving Hospital and asked Stewart Platt to do something for her nervous condition. She was in a highly excited state of mind, but talked rationally. She said she feared she was going insane and that she would kill her child, because at times she could hardly overcome her impulse to desecrate the little one's life. Asked why she harbored such a terrible thought, she said she could not explain it herself, but that it was there and she was unable to dispel it.

"Do you also feel like killing yourself?" the steward asked her.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

Mrs. Nelson hesitated thoughtfully and then replied that at times she did have such an inclination, but that we compared with the hidden impulse to take the life of her child, the idea of committing suicide was of secondary importance.

The steward conversed with the woman for nearly half an hour, and finally succeeded in allaying her emotions and calming her mental uneasiness. She left the hospital apparently in her normal condition and light-hearted.

16 YEAR OLD GIRL IS WOMAN'S ACCUSER

Clara Newton, a negro, was before Police Judge Smith this morning on a charge of enticing young white girls to a house on Pacific street. The complaining witness was Lizzie Wright, a 16-year-old girl, residing with her parents at 713½ Brush street. The girl was rescued by Policeman Wood and Special Policeman King just after she had been enticed into the house. She said on the witness stand that she was decoyed to the place under false pretenses.

Judge Smith continued the examination for a week.

Faint smudges on pieces of wood chipped off a doorjam in the home of John Gray of Pittsburgh, on trial before Judge William S. Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary Will Be Celebrated on Saturday

MR. AND MRS. SYLVESTER GABBS.

ALAMEDA, July 1.—The fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel Sylvester Gabbs will be celebrated at their home, 1550 Santa Clara Avenue, on Saturday. The couple married at San Francisco, July 1, 1859.

Mrs. Gabbs is the eldest daughter of the late John Tregolan, one of the physicians of Alameda. As Miss Hannah Tregolan she was known as one of the most popular belles in society. Her natural disposition and her charming manner endeared her to those with whom she came in contact and today tales are told of the beautiful Tregolan of fifty years back.

Dr. Gabbs is a native of the state of Ohio and came to California in 1854.

He practiced dentistry for a time and later interested himself in the mines of Ne-

ada. Dr. Gabbs is well-known in mining circles and has made a competency in this line of business.

Mrs. Mary Davis Becomes the Bride of Theodore Parker

MELROSE, July 1.—Mrs. Mary Davis, aged 66 years, and Theodore Parker Black, aged 43, both well-known residents of this place, were the principals in a romantic elopement which occurred a week ago yesterday. It was not until Tuesday that the seriously guarded secret was disclosed.

The couple journeyed to San Jose in an automobile, which broke down several times during the journey. Arrived at the city of roses they were united in marriage, and at 2 o'clock the next morning were back in Melrose attending to their new home as ever.

Not a word at the altar was whispered except to the man whom they pursued that same. Announced in a roundabout way of the matinée friends of the couple at 4 o'clock proceeded to claim him at 5 p.m. in the good old fashion way.

About 100 residents of the town assembled in the Melrose Fire Department and other civic bodies, arm-them selves with tin cans and musical instruments and the bride and groom were welcomed by the

CHINESE INvariably END UP WITH WRECKED LIVES

More of These Mission Workers Are Degraded Than Chinese Converted to Christianity, Says Helen Clark

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Miss Helen Clark, director of the Helen F. Clark Mission, is in a position to speak with authority on the subject of Chinese missionary work, having been engaged in it seventeen years. She has strong views on the danger to young girls who give individual attention to the wily heathen.

"There are many things to be said on both sides of the question, in defense as well as in arraignment of the Chinaman," said Miss Clark. "Only a person on the inside, as I am, can understand."

"But there is only one answer to it, all white women must leave the lives of Chinese men alone."

Miss Clark has plainly been much shaken by the Sigel tragedy. Although a woman with the self-control that comes of a fixed purpose pursued through years of personal sacrifice, she was unable, while discussing phases of her life work, to restrain the trembling of her lips and her eyes, darkly mournful, filled with tears.

"And you do not believe any white woman should endeavor to Christianize Chinamen?" I asked.

Wreckers of Homes

"For seventeen years I have urged the folly of that. All about me I have seen the ruin and wrecked homes. Case after case that parallels Miss Sigel's, with the exception of its tragic termination. But even so, death is better than some things I have believed from the very beginning that it was impossible for white women to properly influence Chinese men."

"My beliefs and practices on this point have made my labor harder and my mission attendance smaller. But I have adhered to what I considered right. In my classes for Chinese men I have had Christian men as teachers. I was in the background. My classes have been smaller than those of any other mission, but I am sure of my converts."

"Then it is the attraction of sex and not religion that predominates?"

"In both cases," she said firmly. "Despite all that is in the papers now, the public does not see the other side of the picture—the Chinese side. The picture that I have seen of the young, vain, frivolous white woman deliberately flirting with and leading on her Chinese pupil. Why do such women take up missionary work? Heaven only knows. They are beyond me, unless it is that we, each of us, like to have the name of being good, no matter what we do."

Puzzle to Chinese

"But consider what a puzzle such women must be to the Chinese, men of a race totally unaccustomed to any freedom for women. Is it strange that they mis-judge behavior that ever an American man would question?"

"As to what subtle attraction causes the downfall of the white woman missionary I do not know. The Chinaman is a mystic, but not romantic—not in the sense that would appeal to women. The only light I see is in what might be called the gallantry of the Chinaman. His kindness and gentleness to women."

Does any one realize that more than half of the women of the underworld come to Chinatown to make their names there because Chinamen are more inclined to them than white men? It is true I have seen it. Seen Chinamen, practically married to these women, the ladies of opium, treating them with particular care and tenderness.

Women to Attend The Dedication of New Fire House

CHIEF L. CASTERA, of the Melrose Fire Department.

MELROSE, July 1.—With appropriate exercises the recently completed firehouse will be dedicated on the morning of July 4. Shortly after 9 o'clock an immense flag, made for the occasion by the ladies of Melrose, will be presented to the fire company by Mrs. Adele Schuchert, and will fly over the meeting. The members of the fire department will sing "The Star Spangled Banner," there will be remarks by Fire Commissioners Hunter, Kull and Port, and music by the Melrose Boys' Band.

"This subject is so tremendous that you cannot put it plainly. I cannot tell briefly of all that it has taken me seven years to learn."

"But there is one big truth of which I am sure when I first took up the work of which years have made me most positive beyond argument—the white woman can never Christianize the Chinese man."

"She tries it. It will be the west that is converted to the east, not the east converted to the west."

Goes on a Big Spree, WILL FORFEIT PAROLE

BERKELEY, July 1.—H. J. Dobbins, a life term convict on parole from San Quentin, was arrested last evening at a saloon at Fifty-ninth street and College Avenue by Officers Davis and Kelly. Dobbins had been drunk and abusive during the day and had threatened to beat up his wife at the corner of Sixty-fifth and Telegraph earlier in the day. Word of his running amuck was sent to the Oakland police, but they refused to go so far to make an arrest and the Berkeley officers gathered the bad man in at the point of revolvers, although he was in another territory.

Dobbins goes wild when taken. He told Davis he would not be taken if he had a weapon. Dobbins will be returned to San Quentin and his parole canceled.

NEW FIVE STORY HOTEL WILL COST $125,000

BERKELEY, July 1.—The first hour of the new administration in the building department this morning were marked by the issuance of one of the largest permits in many months when Kidder-McCullough took out papers for the erection of the superstructure of a new five-story hotel to be erected in the Shattuck estate at the corner of Shattuck avenue and Alston way. The permit called for the expenditure of $125,000 and the fees were $43.

GIVE RECEPTION TO BRIDE AND BRIDEGROOM

BERKELEY, July 1.—A pretty reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wells at Grant's hall last night in recognition of their recent marriage on June 19. The young bride and bridegroom have lived in Berkeley for a number of years. The bride was Miss Myrtle Musler, residing at 1617 Hearst avenue, and the bridegroom is the son of W. B. Wells, a contractor, living at 1609 Hearst avenue.

The hall was tastefully decorated with blue and gold. An orchestra of eight pieces furnished music. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wells, Mr. and Mrs. George Golder, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Grant, J. O. Flint, C. F. Williams, Miss McCorran, Miss M. Grant, W. O. Clement, Miss A. Colburn, Miss Z. Y. W. C. A. OF UNIVERSITY WILL TENDER RECEPTION

BERKELEY, July 1.—The Young Women's Christian Association of the university will tender a reception to the students of the summer school tomorrow afternoon at Shattuck Hall. Several of the female students will be present, including Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler and Miss Lucy Sprague, the dean of women. Miss Margaret Kiefer, '09, is in charge of the arrangements.

Transportation Facilities Numerous and Commodious at Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition—Street Car Service and Journey by Boat at Option of Every Visitor.

Seattle, July 1.—There is no necessity to hang to a street car strap while the man in front of you steps on your feet and the open window serves as a fine to suck dust into your eyes and mouth, in going to and from the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle.

A long, but quickly accomplished, journey by boat on one of the most famous lakes of a continent noted for its scenic bodies of water is at the option of every exposition visitor. Numerous and commodious steamboats speed through the laughing waters at all hours of the day and night, and the service is as complete and reliable as the best that may be made the boast of any transportation company in America.

The boats may be taken from Madison, Midway or Leschi parks the terminals of three short rail lines upon which the visitor may be certain of getting a ride. The lines through the heart of the exposition districts, and it is worth the time to see what a beautiful city has been built here between an arm of the sea and the great fresh water lake some three miles to the east.

Lake Washington is a mirror of blue set in a fringe of green. Towering fir trees show their mighty heads above the willow and maple-lined shores, and the houses of the rich, with their extensive green lawns and garden bowers, make a checkerboard of nature and culture to please the eye. To the east undulate hills of green and beyond rises the snow-clad Cascade range, with Mt. Rainier 15,000 feet high, flanking to the south, with a great dome of striking magnificence.

Cool, fast and beautiful, such a ride is just the appetizer for the feast that awaits the visitor at the exposition's gates.

STEAMER BURNS WHILE AT DOCK

Isleton, Valued at $100,000, is Practically Destroyed by Fire

STOCKTON, July 1.—The steamer Isleton of the California Transportation Company, valued at $100,000, was gutted by fire this morning. The engine room had been removed before the fire started.

The fire started shortly after 9 o'clock in the hold aft, where it could not be reached owing to its location and the dense smoke.

The cry of "fire" brought the firemen from the engine house opposite the wharf of the steamer, and though they worked heroically, were unable to save the vessel, though they managed to keep the flames away from the oil tanks in the bow, containing 5,000 gallons of crude oil.

Hull Still Floats

Six streams were brought to bear upon the doomed boat, when a general alarm was finally turned in, but it was two and a half hours before the fire was under control.

The upper works of the boat are burned away and the machinery is ruined. The hull is also believed to be badly damaged, though the bone is still floating.

When the destruction of the freight shed and offices was threatened, the steamer was pushed away from that side of the channel by a launch, to the concrete bulkhead on the other side.

Advice from Sacramento are to the effect that the steamer was not insured.

BELIEVES LING IS NOW IN MELROSE

A. E. Serivens Sees Chinaman That Acts Suspicious at the Depot

NOTIFIES POLICE WHO MAKE FRUITLESS SEARCH

Looked Like the Slayer of Elsie Sigel, Much Sought Fugitive

MELROSE, July 1.—A. E. Serivens, 1112 Forty-sixth avenue, reported to Constable Tom Carroll yesterday that he had seen a mysterious Chinaman, whom he believed was Leon Ling, murderer of Elsie Sigel. According to Serivens, the fellow was the counterpart of the man wanted by the authorities. He was seen to get off a fruit wagon coming from the direction of Melrose, and walked rapidly toward the Melrose depot.

Serivens recognized the fellow as Ling and started to follow the man, who then walked across the street and made off in the opposite direction. Serivens watched the depot for some time and was finally rewarded by seeing the fellow return. Serivens walked over to the depot, and as soon as the fellow saw he was being followed, he again walked away disappearing in the direction of South Melrose. Constable Carroll searched the vicinity, but could find no trace of the man.

MASONS BANQUET PRIEST MONROE

Prominent Members of the Order Attend Function in Honor of Visitor

The banquet given last night in Masonic Hall by the Royal Arch Masons of Alameda county in honor of George H. Monroe, most excellent grand high priest, was a notable function. About 300 Masons were present. Among the diners were Past Grand High Priest F. W. G. Moehus, Past Grand High Priest E. R. Hedges, Past High Priest of St. Andrew's Chapter, Australia, O. M. Morrison, Past High Priest Francis Pearce, of New Zealand, Past High Priest of Alcatraz Chapter, W. S. Cowdin, Oswald Lubinck of Alameda; Past High Priest W. C. Lawrence of Alcatraz Chapter; Thomas A. Hennefeld of Palo Alto; Henry P. Starbuck, prelate of Oakland Commandery; Knights Templar, Knights of Columbus, Rev. Nelson Sanders, J. W. Harlan, D. H. Reid of Kentucky; Judge George Stevens; Milton H. Price of Tennessee, past grand master of Tennessee; High Priest of Oakland Chapter Wallace C. Price; John W. Giffit, E. W. Griffin, D. Finley, Otto Rehl, Robert Evans, W. F. Helm and W. A. Davies.

During the evening the Royal Arch degree was conferred with all the impressive ceremonies of the Masons. The address of welcome was delivered by F. W. G. Dugan, of Oakland Chapter, Royal Arch Masons.

The distinguished visitors responded to a toast. Wallace C. Price acted as toastmaster. Among others who made important speeches at the festive board were John W. Giffit, Mr. Aschroft, Mr. Bowes and Milton Price.

MARIE DARO WILL OPEN AT MACDONOUGH MONDAY

Charles Frohman will present Marie Daro at the Macdonough Theater on July 5, 6 and 7 in "The Morals of Marcus," arranged for the stage by J. Locke, from his famous novel "The Morals of Marcus Ordway." Mr. Locke, who is the author also of "The Beloved Vagabond" and "Simple Septimus," has constructed a comedy that is both ingenious in idea and dainty in treatment and it would be hard to find another woman on the stage who could so completely and satisfactorily fill the role of his heroine, Carlotta. Miss Daro comes here with a company of exceptional artistic strength, including such well known artists as Marie Walmsley, Edwin Arden, Marion Abbott, William Postance, Fred Tilden, Martin J. Taylor, and Anna Meredith and Mildred Bevan. The sale of seats will begin on Thursday.

HENRY A. BUTTERS JR. NAMES HIS GUARDIANS

In order to enable him to enjoy the benefits of the bequests made to him by his deceased father and mother, Henry A. Butters Jr. late yesterday afternoon joined in a petition to the probate department of the Superior Court for the appointment of Lucile E. Bry, his aunt, and David S. Edwards, a half brother, as his guardians. Being a minor, under the law Butters is barred from being a principal in any of the legal acts which are necessary before he can secure his share in his parents' estate. He is the only son of Henry A. Butters and comes into the bulk of his father's large estate, aside from being the principal heir of his mother, who died recently in the Yosemite Valley.

SAN PEDRO TRUSTEES HIT ANOTHER SNAG

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—The board of trustees of San Pedro struck another snag in their effort to award a franchise giving 600 feet of harbor frontage to F. E. Shaw, alleged to represent the Salt Lake Railroad, when Judge Wilbur in the Superior Court granted a temporary injunction returnable July 10, against the trustees, City Clerk of San Pedro and Shaw, restraining them from proceeding with the sale of the franchise. Several taxpayers of San Pedro are the petitioners. The petition says the trustees are seeking to give away a franchise for $50 a year that is worth $100,000 to the city of San Pedro. The trustees are directly charged with "unlawfully combining, conspiring and confederating together, to divert money from the treasury of the city."

HOSPITAL KEPT BUSY.

June was a busy month at the receiving hospital in the history of that institution. There were 308 admissions. Of these three died, eleven were sent to the county infirmary and one was dead when admitted. The average number of patients treated daily was ten.

Dancers Give Clever Act at The Orpheum

LA PETITE ADELAIDE, the Famous Dancer at the Oakland Orpheum.

Feminine loveliness is very much in evidence at the Oakland Orpheum this week. The new vaudeville show at the Twelfth street house has a preponderance of pretty women, who are also extremely clever artists and this combination is sufficient to provide a very snappy bill.

It is a regular warm weather show—the current vaudeville bill that the Orpheum people are putting on. It goes with speed, is keyed up to a high pitch every moment, and has so attractive a flavor that it really is entitled to be called "the most enticing vaudeville bill" that lovers of vaudeville have had spread before them in many a long day.

Fascinating Miss Meyers

There is a cute maiden, Miss Meyers, in a sketch called "When Dreams Come True," who is particularly fascinating. One of her tricks that has completely caught the fancy of the crowds is seen when she uses a hand mirror with which to throw a shaft of light into the eyes of various people in the audience, while she sings a dainty love ditty in which she expresses her longing for some one to adore her, cuddle her and otherwise be agreeable. It is a novel stunt—this using of a mirror while the house is darkened.

Elizabeth Murray is showing the crowds exactly how a song or an Irish song or almost any kind of a song should be rendered. She is an artist to her finger tips, is Miss Murray, this being scored by the ease with which she scores an enormous hit. She sings five songs, each of them a big applause winner, and for the finish renders "It Looks Like a Big Night Tonight," adding a sense of novelty to that song by the imitation of a typy man, which is simply sidesplitting.

Act is Good

A very pretty act of the acrobatic sort is seen when the Sisters Gash take the stage. They are dainty girls, and accomplished athletes. Their act shows the finish which all European artists give to their work, and is undoubtedly one of the greatest importations of the day in the vaudeville line.

A big hit is made by La Petite Adelaide, a wonderfully clever dancer, who, with four pretty girls, appears in a musical and dancing fantasy entitled "The Elliptopus Dream." It is a pretentious act, very well staged and worthy of the position of honor it occupies on the bill.

The "big scream" comes when "The Night with the Circus" is on. This is perhaps the funniest thing ever staged at the Orpheum. It was the thin last week, drawing the multitudes night and day, and it looks as though it would remain the star act on the bill during this week.

Miss Cheridah Simpson, the beautiful woman, clever at the piano and altogether charming, wins the crowds with her singing.

The Novelty Dancers Four please the throngs with their clever work and succession of graceful dances.

The usual dramatic hit is contributed by Pelletier and Foran, with their sketch, "A Spotted Reputation."

Next week comes "The Futurity Winner," a racing play, in which an actual horse race is shown.

CALIFORNIA PIONEER VISITING IN OAKLAND

There is now being entertained at the home of Mrs. W. L. Monroe, 916 Kirkham street, Major D. A. Shaw, a pioneer of this state and a man who has risen to distinction in various lines and who, although 83 years of age, is not forgotten by many of the people with whom he met many years ago. The major came across the plains in 1853, and it was he who piloted the late Lucky Baldwin when the latter was coming to this state where subsequently had such a remarkable career. On the same trip the major met the young lady whom, subsequently, he married on the arrival of the party in San Francisco.

Major Shaw, regardless of his years, is still a young man in spirit and enjoys the life which is marvelled at by people who are accustomed to look upon pain to themselves. The major is the author of the book "El Dorado," which is a pen-picture of life in California in the early days. He has taken great pleasure in lecturing on the same subject because his experience has placed him in possession of many facts which are now rapidly disappearing with the passing away of the men who were among those active in the life of the Americans of the time.

FORMER PRESIDENT CASTRO MAKES FUN

SANTANDOR, Spain, July 1.—Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, today gave out the following written statement:

"The ridiculous report of my disappearance undoubtedly originated in the United States. The American government, to justify its conduct and the pressure it is exercising upon my country, seeks persistently to create the belief that I am organizing a revolution."

The sending of warships to Venezuelan waters perhaps will result in a dignified attitude on the part of the Venezuelan congress to prevent the interference of the American government in our domestic affairs. The first attempt at expansion having failed, the American government is preparing to decide the world with another wicked scheme under cover of which it can accomplish its purpose."

Besides his widow, Mrs. Sarah Jane Bennett, he is survived by two sons, Thomas H. and Ralph W. Bennett.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Golden Gate M. E. church. Rev. Crowe, pastor of the church officiating.

CARRIES OCEAN CABLE

LONDON, July 1.—The cable steamer Colonia sailed from London today with 160 miles of cable on board to lay the Commercial Cable Company's new line between Newfoundland and New York.

FROM HERE TO EAST BY SHIP

Freight From New York Lands at Foot of Franklin Street, Oakland

Freight by way of steamship on the Atlantic, then east to coast by means of the Tehuantepec railroad, thence by way of steamer on the Pacific will be delivered to all the large cities on this coast, and especially at the foot of Franklin street, this city. This fact was brought to notice this morning by the statement of a representative of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, which is engaged in this enterprise, the statement being as follows:

"The steamers of this line leave New York every Saturday. Freight is delivered in San Francisco and Oakland in approximately thirty days. About one year ago Oakland received about thirty tons of freight per month. At the present time Oakland merchants receive from 800 to 1,000 tons per month and save about 20 per cent in freight charges. Through rates are quoted to Oakland and deliveries made at our city docks at the foot of Franklin street. This means revenue to the city of Oakland in the way of wharfage. Deliveries are made direct to any industry located on the Oakland harbor, just the same as if freight moved via rail was delivered on site track. Many merchants in Oakland are now patronizing this route."

Railway Terminals

The Tehuantepec National Railway has the following terminals: Pacific, Tijuana, Cruz, Gulf, Puerto Mexico, Salina, Cruz is a cargo harbor, outer part enclosed by breakwaters, and inner part is formed by concrete quay, upon which steel and stone warehouses are built.

Puerto Mexico is formed by deepening and confining water of Coatzacoalcos river.

The road is of modern construction, standard gauge, with steel bridges and masonry abutments.

The rolling stock comprises oil-burning locomotives, with new boxcars. The length of the road is 303 kilometers (190 miles). Twelve hours are employed in making the trip, coast to coast.

Two Fleets

The American-Hawaiian Steamship Company controls this Atlantic fleet, plying between Puerto Mexico and New York, the American, Hawaiian, California, Oregonian, all 8,000 tons; Isthmian, 7,000 and the Luckenbach, chartered, 6,000 tons.

The Pacific fleet, operating between San Juan, Puerto Rico and Hawaiian Islands comprises the Columbian, Mexican, Mississippi, Virginian, and Texan, each 12,000 tons. San Juan, Puerto Rico and Hawaiian Islands, San Francisco and San Diego, each 8,000 tons.

Between San Juan and San Diego, San Francisco and San Diego, each 8,000 tons.

Between Hawaii and San Francisco, chartered.

Between Atlantic and Pacific ports via the Straits of Magellan, are the steamship Alaska and the steamship Arizona, each 12,000 tons.

And the above eighteen vessels twelve are in the Pacific fleet. The company does all repairs on the Pacific coast, buys all supplies on the Pacific coast, and pays off crews at Pacific coast ports, an average expense of $500 per day. Twelve crews expend $600 per day on the Pacific coast, the greater part of which is the cost of the food.

Danderine

and we can

PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:
"As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost

All troubles, like many other diseases, I have been wronged, disappointed, and ruined by the results of the hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soul in which the hair is born, it is born, it grows, and grows, and it alone should receive the attention its results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow, and because the plant itself is dead, the plant grows and must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention that you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of blood. When the scalp is deprived of its blood, the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed the scalp with the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowledge's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands, causing the scalp to grow and develop ready for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects quickly exhibiting great and distinguishing qualities.

One 25 cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

Now at all druggists in three sizes,

25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

LOCAL BANKERS TO HEAR ADDRESS

George E. Allen to Discuss the Educating of Financiers

A meeting of the combined chapters of San Francisco and Oakland Institute of Banking is called for this evening at the headquarters of the San Francisco chapter, over the First National Bank in San Francisco. The purpose of the meeting is to hear an address by George E. Allen, the educational director of the institute from New York, who is making an official visit to all the chapters on the Pacific Coast. Allen's talk will be on the necessity of instilling into the western bankers the object of the institute, which is entirely educational, being intended to make them better financiers, better bankers; to familiarize them with commercial paper and to make banking a profession and to raise it to the Eastern standard, which is ahead of this coast at present.

Work of Chapter

The Oakland chapter has been steadily working along the educational lines advocated by Allen. They are at present in the midst of a series of lectures by Assistant District Attorney Robert W. Garrison of San Francisco, on "Negotiable Instruments," the titles of which are as follows: Negotiability, different kinds of negotiable instruments, parties to negotiable instruments, form and requisites, consideration, delivery, maker's contract, drawer's contract, acceptor's contract, certifier's contract, transfer, indorser's contract, holder's rights, payment, fixing liabilities upon the instrument, accommodation contracts, assurer's contract and criminal offense in relation to negotiable instruments.

Educational Topics

It is the purpose of the executive council of the chapter to send out a regular course of study on all educational topics relating to banking. Examinations will be held and certificates awarded which will entitle the holders to better positions.

Debates will be encouraged on the problems that come up in every day business work and class work will be favored for the development of confidence when addressing public bodies.

HANBURY'S WIFE WANTS ISLAND

Brings Action in Napa Court
Against Her Brother-in-Law

NAPA, July 1.—Another chapter in the now famous disputes over the ownership of Island No. 2, in the middle of the Napa river sloughs, began when Attorney Theodore A. Bell, on behalf of Marie Eleanor Hanbury, wife of David Hanbury, filed a suit against her husband's brother, John McKenzie Hanbury of England, praying that the court set aside the deed which he holds on the property and give her a clear title to the island.

In her complaint Mrs. Hanbury reviews the facts that on January 1, 1898, for the consideration of $10,000, her husband deeded the property to his brother and that on October 11th of the same year he deeded the same property to his brother. Mrs. Hanbury recorded her deed to the property on December 21, 1908, and the brother filed his papers three weeks later. Mrs. Hanbury alleges three grounds on which she claims that the deed should be set aside, the first being that her husband, David Hanbury, was not of sound mind when he turned over the property to his brother, he having for months imbibed too freely in intoxicating liquors. Second, that the deed was never delivered, Hanbury having his attorney, Charles Slickert, prepare the paper during the time their divorce suit was pending and when they were temporarily estranged. Third, that he never intended that the deed should be of any effect. The island she claims to be worth $100,000 and she asks that a receiver be appointed pending the final settlement of the suit to care for and market the valuable hay crop now on the property.

MEN NOT MOLLYCODDLES NEEDED SAYS DIVINE

The Rev. P. C. Macfarlane, who gave up his pastorate of the First Christian Church of Alameda several months ago to accept the national secretaryship of the Brotherhood of Disciples of Christ, will address the congregation of the Christian Church of this city on the evening of July 4.

He is at present making a lecture tour of the Pacific Coast with a view to rekindling religious interest among the younger generation of men in America, and will talk here on "The World Needs Men, Not Mollycoddles." The Rev. Macfarlane is popular in this part of the State and during the years of his ministry in Alameda gained a large following who will welcome his return.

MAKES HOME IN RENO TO GAIN A DIVORCE

RENO, Nev., July 1.—Divorce proceedings were instituted yesterday in the District Court here by Mrs. Nettie B. Turner, formerly a resident of Utica, New York, and daughter of a well-known merchant of that city, from her husband, W. M. Turner, a prominent merchant doing business at 43 Beaver street, New York city. The ground of action is alleged desertion and failure to support her and her son, 11 years of age, since leaving her to earn her own livelihood since their separation in January, 1907. The couple were married at the wife's home in Utica in October, 1886.

"Faust" will be followed by "Pals," the play in which James J. Corbett played the pugilistic hero with such success in New York. "Pals" will be followed by "Strongheart," also a drama of the first order. Constant improvement is Manager Smith's motto.

San Lorenzo NewsNotes

SAN LORENZO, July 1.—O. W. Schubert, who is train telegrapher at The Needles, Southern California, made a two-day visit with his son, H. L. Schubert, 16, and daughter, 14. Among those who attended the Liberty Playhouse on Monday evening to see Mrs. Elsie St. John, actress, was a visitor to town this week.

Quite a number of people went to Mount Wilson yesterday to attend the famous "Jingle Gadding," the youngest son of Mrs. Catherine Gadding of that place.

Mrs. Madge Rice, who resides in the home of her son, Dr. L. A. Reynolds, left the head of the household (a patient) and will stay there until he is in a precarious condition at her home in the homestead. Dr. Reynolds is attending her.

Gifted Violinist
Plans for Series
Of Winter Concerts

MISS LOU BARBAGE-LATA, Who Is Planning Violin Recitals. —Scharz Photo.

Miss Lou Barbagelata, a gifted violinist of this city, is planning to give several recitals during the winter months. She will be heard in the concert halls of San Francisco and Oakland. Miss Barbagelata is a general favorite in the musical colony here, where she has lived for the past few years. As a violinist she has won distinction and has been encouraged by many to continue her studies and advanced. The last concert given by Miss Barbagelata in the Greek Theater was a marked success and was well attended by music lovers.

FIND CORPSE IN SEWER CAVE-IN

Workman Buried All Night Before He is Missed and Body Found

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—Buried by a workman in one of the sewer trenches in which he was working alone, the body of Sam Miskin, a Slavonian laborer, 20 years of age, lay undiscovered in the street from 3 o'clock yesterday until 9 o'clock today. The accident happened near Third and Franklin streets, where a ten-foot sewer trench was being dug to connect with a new building. The force of laborers on the job had worked all of Tuesday night, and Miskin went to work alone yesterday afternoon. His coat was noticed lying in the street and investigation disclosed his crumpled-up body face downward, under three of dirt.

Co-operative Promotion.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Sacramento Valley Development Association it was decided to raise a fund of $250,000 to be used to advertise the resources of the great valley and the exceptional inducements offered to colonists to settle there. It was also decided to hold during the coming month a mass meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Boards of Supervisors, City Trustees and other interested bodies and persons located within the area of the Development Association's activities, the purpose of which will be to ratify the plans of the Executive Committee.

The Sacramento Valley Development Association was organized ten years ago by the late Will S. Green of the Colusa Sun. The purpose he had in mind and for which he had worked earnestly for many years before the association was formed was to unite the Sacramento Valley in one common effort to develop its natural resources. The initial step which Green considered necessary for the success of the movement was the subdivision of the big wheat ranches. This has been going on now for several years, and as a result there are tens of thousands of acres now available for settlement. At the executive meeting of the association it was asserted that fifty thousand settlers can be placed on small farm homes in the valley today.

The plan of raising a big fund to advertise the valley abroad is the direct outcome of a series of what were designated as Get-Together meetings held at Sacramento, Chico and Colusa. The movement contains a valuable suggestion to the commercial and other organized bodies of the three cities and the suburban towns and settlements located on this side of the bay. Co-operative effort will accomplish with comparative ease what these organizations find difficult when working separately and independently. A recognition of the value of co-operative effort for the common good of neighboring localities was given Tuesday at the Forum luncheon of representative business men from the bay cities and towns within a radius of twelve or fifteen miles of the City Hall of Oakland. At that informal gathering the foundation was laid for the formation of a central organization through which unity of action for mutual benefit may be obtained. In the past, some of these organizations have been working more or less at cross purposes for selfish ends and there has naturally been a waste of much energy and effort as a result.

More Boosting for Oakland

Dr. O. D. Hamlin has just returned from an Eastern trip and from a visit to Seattle. He is an observing citizen. At Seattle he was, therefore, impressed with the booming spirit which its citizens possessed and the comparison mentally made on the spot naturally led him to reach the conviction that Oakland is lacking in that respect.

There is no denying the fact that since the development of the goldfields of Yukon Territory and Alaska, the trade of both of which Seattle has largely secured, that city has become possessed by a boundless ambition. It has for several years been posing as a rival to San Francisco and Oakland for commercial supremacy on the Pacific coast. Its citizens outdo the Los Angeles boomers in the palmiest days of boom town building in the southern counties. Seattle is being as much advertised in the East as any city on the Pacific coast, and perhaps a little more so as present. The Seattle people have discovered that it pays. They are, therefore, keeping it up. The success of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition has given them a second wind in the matter of booming.

During the past few years Oakland has been slightly infected with the boom spirit. Dr. Hamlin thinks, however, that we have not yet got enough of it. He is doubtless right; but we are

Engineering Notes

It was a remarkable trip made by the British battleship-cruiser Invincible from Queen's Ferry to Portsmouth, when an average of twenty-eight knots an hour was made.

Seven bids, ranging from one and one-half millions to two and one-quarter millions of dollars, have been received for the foundations of the twenty-five-story municipal building, which will be erected in New York city, near the Manhattan end of Brooklyn bridge.

London has increased from an area of three square miles in the year 1200 to 117 square miles in 1908, while Liverpool has advanced from 1 square mile to 27.8 square miles in the same time.

April 25 marked the Jubilee of the Suez canal, which was opened for traffic in 1869 with a twenty-six-foot depth of water and a seventy-one-foot width at the bottom, which dimensions have been increased to a thirty-two-foot depth and ninety-seven-foot width.

Satisfactory results were obtained from the first tests of the McClean-Lissak automatic gun, when this monster machine conveyed a supply of ammunition and a crew of ten men at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, and when wheeled into position, threw three-pound shells at the rate of 250 per minute.

With a total cost of $300,000 the Spokane-Portland railway bridge, spanning the Willamette river near Portland, has been completed, after more than a year's work, and is considered by engineers to be the longest drawspan in the world.

During the construction of the Gatun locks, Panama, an enormous power plant will be erected for furnishing power for running cable ways, for operating concrete mixers and for running the transportation cars, and will be held in reserve, after the canal is in service, to operate the locks in case of derangement of the hydraulic power.

About 37,000 tons of material have been used on the Manhattan bridge, the third largest suspension bridge in the world, spanning East river, which was begun in 1902 and which is expected to be completed before the beginning of the next year.

About Noted People

Cresswell, afterward Sir Cresswell, the famous English divorce lawyer, was a most pompous man. His manner once so irritated Justice Maule, before whom he was arguing, that the latter at last burst out with: "Mr. Cresswell, I wish you would remember that I am a vertebrate animal. Your manner to me would be insolence from God Almighty to a black beetle."

Thomas F. Ryan declares he is tired of seeing his name in print, and wants the papers to leave him alone. It is suspected that the sugar trust is tired of seeing its name in print and wishes the papers would leave it alone.

George J. Gould is the only one of the Wizard's children who has not made a wretched fizzle of matrimony—unless you except Miss Helen Gould.

For many years Dr. Francis L. Patton, ex-president of Princeton University, wore side whiskers. Whenever he suggested shaving them there was a division of opinion in the family. One morning he came into his wife's dressing room, razor in hand, with his right cheek shaved smooth. "How do you like me, dear?" he asked. "If you think it looks well, I will shave the other side, too."

getting there by degrees all the same. The commercial bodies and the Real Estate Association have put Oakland inerasably on the map. It is there to stay for all time as one of the most progressive and attractive of the big cities of the country, fast forging to the front as the leading city of the Pacific coast. It is no longer hidden under a bushel, but there is a whole lot of pushing and boasting to be done yet before Oakland will reach the position to which it is rightfully entitled in the minds of people abroad. We have been overmodest in the past; we are over-modest now, and that is what Dr. Hamlin doubtless wants to impress on his fellow citizens, for we possess everything in Oakland, save a larger degree of the boasting principle, to make it one of the great cities of the continent.

Condition of British Navy.

England's "Fighting Charley," Admiral Lord Beresford, is so persistent and violent in his attacks on the condition of the British navy that he will soon be in danger of being classed as a common scold. It all grows out of his intense hatred of Sir John Fisher, First Lord of the Admiralty, whose plans for the reorganization of the navy, when put into effect, resulted in Beresford's retirement before reaching the age limit. Since then Beresford has been employing his time denouncing the condition of new ships, the plan of naval defense and official incapacity.

At a recent public gathering, where he was the chief speaker, the admiral was publicly rebuked by W. T. Stead, the venerable editor of the Review of Reviews, for the attack he made in the course of his speech on Sir John Fisher. Yesterday Beresford appeared before the London Chamber of Commerce in his customary role, with an addendum this time, wherein he informed his hearers that the country must spend from $275,000,000 to $300,000,000 within the next five years on new battleships, cruisers, torpedo-boat destroyers, floating docks, naval supplies and ammunition, and besides add 16,000 men to the personnel of the navy, "in order to put the empire in a state of safety by March, 1914."

Beresford is considerable of a fighting politician as well as a sea fighter. He has given proof of his forensic ability as well as of his quality under actual fire. As a debater he has a blunt way of calling a spade a "spade." His purpose is usually to center public attention on some real or fancied defect in naval equipment in order to force the government to institute reforms. He has usually won his point. But in this campaign there is reason to believe that Beresford is allowing his judgment to be warped by his bitter hatred of Admiral Fisher and is, therefore, exaggerating whatever defects really exist in Britain's navy.

But the flank attack he makes on the national pocketbook when he charges that it will need an expenditure of nearly $300,000,000 in five years to put the navy in a state of efficiency will be likely to cause the British people to think and parliament to investigate.

Berkeley starts on a new career today as a full-fledged city, under an entirely new form of government to that under which it has existed heretofore. Under its old charter it had a Mayor "by courtesy"; now it has the "real thing."

The State of Mississippi has a claim of $11,000,000 against the Standard Oil Company, representing a three years' accumulation of a statutory penalty of $5000 per day for each specific violation of the anti-trust laws which it is alleged to have committed. The State will probably find it as impossible to collect this claim as the Federal government did to collect the fine of $29,250,000 imposed upon the corporation by United States Circuit Judge Landis for violating the interstate commerce law.

The supervisors pass an ordinance granting to the Piedmont Cable company to build a cable line for transportation purposes in the vicinity of Blair Park.

County Recorder Rod Church reports that the fees collected by him and turned over to the county treasurer for the past six months amount to $10,658.

Articles of the Pleasanton Improvement association have been filed. The directors are Mrs. Phoebe Blair, Montgomery Howe, Samuel Howe, W. B. Morse and James Stock to the amount of $600,000 has been subscribed.

The will of the late J. Athearn Folger has been filed for probate. It is not believed that the estate will exceed in value $25,000. The executors are Mrs. Ellen Folger, Athearn Folger and George Wheaton.

Council Biographer calls upon City Attorney Johnson to remove the disease-breeding buildings of Doctor Ambrose from the streets, but Johnson says that under the present mixture of the law he has no authority in the premises.

Horace W. Carpenter sells 12,600 acres in Morey Valley to several capitalists, among whom are Gen. J. A. Williamson, president of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company.

Mrs. Lizzie K. Iluma is suing for a divorce from Joseph Hume. She wanted $500 per month with which to conduct her home. The husband thought that that could be done with $500 less.

Metcalf and Metcalf have been retained by the plaintiff. When the defendant heard that divorce proceedings were to be commenced, it is said that he offered his wife a divorce and a bonus of $15,000 in order to avoid publicity, but the offer was declined.

Oft have I heard my grandires tell As he sat in his high wing chair Of days when Grandma Ann was belle And all the men wore powdered hair.

How young blood danced the winters out

With the merry hearted inn, While jolly squires lame with gout Sat back and smoked and drank their gin, And when the news came from the coast

That Lafayette's brave ship had come;

The place the cheering rang the most Was in the good old "Fife and Drum."

Oh, good old inn of other days, Your chimneys totter and careen, And through your floors the cattle graze.

Where grasses grow so dense and green,

Your paneless dormers, dark with gloom,

Invite the bats and midnight owls,

And in that musty attic room,

Perhaps some restless spirit prowls.

But once again in dream I see

Yond old green lanterns bid "Well comin'!"

With feast and cheer and revelry—

"Within the good, old "Fife and Drum."

—Victor A. Hermann.

POLITICAL COMMENT

The President's message in connection with the taxation of corporations demands direct Governmental control of the business of every corporation in the country. Consideration of tariff schedules necessarily fades into the background when a question so enormous is brought forward—when the question is presented whether we shall have in this country a business despoticism, with whatever man may happen to be President as a despot with powers of business life and death.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

There are several signs that the woman suffrage movement in this country is growing. The most significant one is the attention that prominent churchmen are beginning to pay it. Its strength numerically cannot be stated. There has been no canvass and hence there are no statistics worthy of consideration. Until quite recently there was no business-like organization. But the matter is being attended to now, and by women of energy and means.—Washington Star.

In December James Wilson will have had a longer continuous service as Secretary of Agriculture than did Albert Galatin, as Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. Wilson's administration will be remembered not only for its length but for the extraordinary development which it has witnessed. Today it is the largest scientific organization in the earth. Its bureaus, when put into effect, will occupy a group of buildings comparable with those of a good-sized university.—Boston Transcript.

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

The fiscal year has closed and the deficit in the city treasury has disappeared. It has quietly dropped out of sight through careful saving. When the new administration took office the city was threatened with a deficit of $15,000 comprising shortages in the water and the street funds.

J. E. Hill is the name of the man who was drowned at Twenty-third avenue yesterday by falling from a dredger into the water and slime, in some unaccountable manner. Today, there was to have been a preliminary examination of the deceased on the charge of threatening the life of a fellow laborer but the charge was dismissed in the police court by Judge Laird, when it was announced by Assistant District Attorney Church that the accused had been removed from beyond the jurisdiction of any earthly court.

There is trouble over the appointment of W. H. Fountain as assistant superintendent of streets for the reason that Jessie Wall, who is the superintendent of that department of the city government failed to make a written request for either deputy.

F. L. Button has been retained as the representative of the Sixth Ward property owners for the purpose of prosecuting Dr. Sander for violating the fire-limits ordinance by the latter's attempting to move his worm-eaten shacks on to the lot at the southeast corner of Franklin and Ninth streets. S. B. McKee is to appear for the accused. City Attorney Johnson has given an opinion that the ordinance passed by the council on the subject is void and Button says that at first he felt that the city attorney was correct, but he has changed his mind in the matter.

I have known Mr. Belasco since his youth, and am fond of him on his first success in New York—"May Blossom"—and know of no one who held the Native Daughters in greater esteem than he; and more than that, he was always particularly sensitive if a word of dispraise was uttered against them in his presence. I did not see the play at the Liberty Theater last week, but if Miss Lambert did, I venture she must have either looked through the small end of her opera glasses or assumed an injured dignity concerning the performances based upon the pleasant status of affairs in California. NEW CLIFF HOUSE, WORTHY CROWN, ON HISTORIC SPOT

Building Is Fittingly Dedicated at Banquet in Magnificent Rooms of Structure Overlooking Seal Rocks

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—A gathering of representative men from the San Francisco Bay cities marked the dedication of the new Cliff House Tuesday night, when, around an elaborate banquet board, forty Californiaans who love and revere the historic spot, toasted the new building, that, finer and more a tissue than either of its predecessors, is to stand sentinel-like through the coming years, on the highest point of the most famous stretch of cliff in San Francisco bay.

Eloquent reminiscences of the old, mingled with hearty good wishes for the new building, which was hailed by the speakers of the evening as a notable milestone in the onward march of the city and a splendid capstone to the work of perfecting and completing the new San Francisco.

The hosts of the evening were Messrs. L. J. Scott, George Jones and John Faist, the proprietors of the enterprise, which has been re-established for San Francisco a more creditable resort than ever upon the historic spot. William F. Humphrey presided at the dinner, and Samuel Shattock delivered the address of the evening.

Worthy Crown

The building and appointments of the new Cliff House are superb. It is of two stories, of chaste and substantial architecture and presents from both land and sea a pretty and worthy crown to the historic eminence at the western limit of the continent. In beauty it utterly eclipses either of its predecessors. The interior is sumptuous and ornate, the arrangement being loyal to the comfort of guests and the finest display of the scenic advantages. The magnificent dining rooms and banqueting halls, walled at the west with glass, afford a full view of the seal rocks, the breakers, the beach and the vast expanse of water. From seats at the tables in a myriad of dining rooms the guests may enjoy the surpassing spectacle of the sun setting in the deep with the rugged rocks for a frame. On the ocean side the building is surrounded with a spacious low esplanade.

Unique Rules Adopted in Order to Insure Success of Dance

MELROSE, July 1.—George Taylor, secretary of the Reliance Club of Oakland, and a well-known real estate man of this place, will conduct a five-cent dance during the afternoon and evening of July 5, at Melrose Central Hall. Sam Dalton, widely known lumberman, will be associated in the enterprise. The money raised from the dance will go to pay the expenses of the Fourth of July committee.

Unlike the ordinary 5-cent dance, this dance of Taylor's will be a swell affair. Following are some of the rules:

No gentlemen in overalls will be allowed on the floor.

Gentlemen wishing to dance must receive a "knock-down" to the lady of their choice. The services of a general introducer will be available at 5 cents per introduction.

Gentlemen failing to use a handkerchief to prevent soiling his partner's dress, will be ejected. (Note: Handkerchiefs will be sold on sale at ten cents each.)

In all disputes between gentlemen during the same partner for the same dance inform the floor manager, who will decide boxing gloves and a referee.

No boozing allowed on the floor. It might make the floor slippery.

The dance will close at 6 a. m. July 6.

The great banquet under the auspices of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce takes place tonight in the banquet room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral. It will be one of the most enjoyable of the series of entertainments of this kind which have been arranged by this organization. It will be practical in every way. It will commence at 6:30 o'clock in the evening and will be brought to a close at an early hour. There will be no oral set speeches and all of them will be of a practical character also.

The menu will be most delightful and appetizing because the understanding with Mann, the caterer, is that it is to be a revelation, especially when the price is taken into consideration.

Complete Arrangements

The arrangements for the spread have been made in the most efficient manner by the banquet committee, composed in the main of the workers in the Chamber of Commerce and Prosperity Committee of the organization which advertised the chamber all over the coast by increasing the membership by more than fifteen hundred, thus more than doubling the roster and more than doubling, at the same time, the possibility of advertising the city of Oakland abroad.

Gentlemen wishing to dance must receive a "knock-down" to the lady of their choice. The services of a general introducer will be available at 5 cents per introduction.

MRS. DE GRASSI HIT WITH BAT

Gets Black Eye While Acting as Umpire at Sierra Club Game

A series of mishaps suffered by three prominent members of the Sierra Club, which is enjoying its annual outing in the Big Trees Valley, has just been reported. The victim is Mrs. Antonia de Grassi, formerly Miss Winifred June Morgan, the violinist. Miss Frieda L. Burton, daughter of Attorney Fred L. Burton, and Charles Duton, a Berkeley pianist, were also injured. Mrs. Burton, in a baseball game, was struck by a baseball bat and is suffering from a severe wound over her right eye and discoloration under it.

Kills Snake

Miss Frieda Burton was attacked by a rattlesnake before the club had been in camp two days, but she had quick enough to raise the alpine stick, which she carried, and kill the rattle. The victim was for a time even more serious than the two women, for shortly after his arrival in camp he developed ptomaine poisoning, and it was only after repeated medical treatment that he recovered.

Club Members on Trip

Among the Sierra Club members who are at Yosemite are John Muir, the noted California naturalist and mountain climber; Professor W. E. Cobley of the University of California, and his wife, Charles Duton, Lydia Stewart, the opera singer of Berkeley, and Bailey, Walter Batchie, Signor and Mrs. de Grassi, Miss Eva Powell, Miss Helen Powell, Miss Adelaide Stiles, Miss Katharine Englehardt, Miss Anna Englehardt, Miss Paula Weston, Miss Viva Anderson, Miss Alice Biggs, and Miss Susan Culver.

Herbert Gleason, the noted Boston naturalist, is a guest of the club. Gleason entertains nightly with lectures on natural history.

CAPITALIST MUST SERVE IN PRISON

Supreme Court Sustains Lower Tribunal in Perjury Case of W. B. Bradbury

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—The verdict of the Superior Court which found millionaire William B. Bradbury guilty of perjury in San Rafael more than a year ago, was upheld by the Supreme Court yesterday, and Bradbury must serve a year in San Quentin.

President L. H. Clay, as toastmaster, will be seated at the middle of the table and on his right in the order named will be:

The San Francisco Letter Carriers will hold their annual outing and games at Shell Mound Park, Sunday, July 4, the proceeds to be used for the sick and death fund of the Letter Carriers' Association. The day promises to be a success in every respect.

The Pacific Amateur association will have charge of the games for which many valuable and handsome cups and trophies have been offered. The number of entries from St. Mary's College and other prominent athletic centers insure the most interesting field day of the year.

In addition to the athletic features, two pavilions will be available for dancing, while first class music has been engaged, and no detail looking toward the entertainment of the patrons has been neglected.

President T. L. McKeever of Golden Gate Branch, No. 314, National Association of Letter Carriers, has charge of the program, and has an able corps of assistants.

SIN SOCIETY

Engagements, Weddings, Dinners and Other Happenings in the Smart Set

Mr. and Mrs. George Faulkner returned on Monday morning from a delightful trip to the Yosemite. With them in the interesting valley were Miss Lydia Sturtevant, Miss Laura Shaw and Miss L. L. Shaw of Berkeley and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ormsby.

As the day of their return happened to be their wedding anniversary, they decided to entertain and so invited a congenial group of friends for the evening. The affair, though impromptu, was most pleasant.

A game of five hundred, a dainty repast and music were enjoyed. The prizes for the game were won by Frank Shay and Mrs. Harry Roach. Mrs. Fred Lauter sang several selections and Mrs. Faulkner contributed piano numbers. Among the guests of this happy evening were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shuy, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Roach, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sawyer, Dr. and Mrs. William Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Tripp, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lauter, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ormsby, Miss Grace Tuttle, Miss Eva Sheppard, Miss Elma Galt, William Gilley, Percy Hardenberg, William Klute, H. Bailey, and a few others.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner are exceedingly popular and always entertain in a most hospitable manner.

Mrs. Faulkner is an accomplished musician and draws around her a circle of acute and interesting friends.

TO WED THIS EVENING.

This evening at 9 o'clock Miss Grace M. Poole will become the bride of James Garland Melvin. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sarah Poole, and will be witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives of the young couple. The marriage service will be read by Judge Henry B. Melvin, who is an uncle of the groom.

The bride, a sweet and winsome girl, will be becomingly gowned in a handsome director costume of white satin, elaborately embroidered in gold and white. She will be unadorned with the exception of a dainty little relative, Bernice Mildred Poole, who will act as flower girl.

The bride is the daughter of the late Captain William Poole. She is a girl of charming manner and has a wife circle of friends on both sides of the bay. The groom is the son of James Reed Melvin and numbers among his relatives some of California's most distinguished people.

Mrs. J. W. Sward is planning a pretty affair for some day next week, when she will entertain in honor of Mrs. Edwin L. Howard, whose wedding was solemnized on Tuesday last at Sacred Heart Church.

Mrs. Sward is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Howard and is a charming young matron.

ESTATE TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Allen of 1130 Adeline street left on Tuesday for an extended trip to the East. Mr. Allen is a popular Pullman conductor, and both he and his wife have many friends in Oakland. On their return journey they will stop at the Cup, Colo., where Mr. Allen has extensive mining interests.

TRIP TO SEATTLE.

Mrs. Ellen Nordean left last night for Seattle, where she will enjoy a visit of several weeks.

GONE TO LOS GATOS.

Mrs. C. Glynn, accompanied by Miss Colette Glynn and Miss Elsa Ironmonger, have gone to Los Gatos, where they will spend the summer.

MOTOR TO SANTA CRUZ.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watson Cushing will motor down to Santa Cruz for a short visit over the Fourth. Later they intend to spend a month at the same attractive watering place. Mrs. Cushing's son, Joseph Ghislardini, will leave shortly for a trip to Los Angeles. His engagement to Miss Marian Murry was announced in the early spring, but the date for the wedding has not been set.

ENJOYABLE THEATER PARTY.

Edgar Stone was host last evening at a theater party given in honor of Miss Harriet and Miss Marion Stone, who have recently returned from New York, where they have been attending Miss Spence's school. Several happily planned affairs have been given within the last week by friends who are glad to welcome back these popular young girls. Among those who made up the party last evening were Mrs. Egbert Stone, who went as chaperone, Miss Harriet, Miss Marion, Miss Dorothy and Miss Helen Stone, Miss Irene Farrell, Miss Eliza McMullen, Miss Sparry, Al and Tom Humphrey, Jack Hale and Elery Stone.

VISITORS TO YOSEMITE.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Smith and Miss W. O. Smith are among the recent arrivals at Yosemite.

W. O. Smith will go to San Fran for a visit and later return to the attractive valley.

CARMEL.

Terence and her tiny daughter, Madeline, will leave for Carmel-by-the-Sea, accompanied by Miss Hazel Butterfield, a niece of Captain Bragues, who is a sweet singer and a charming girl.

BIRTHDAY DINNER PARTY.

Mrs. J. H. Evans was hostess on Tuesday evening at an informal dinner given in honor of her birthday. Among those who were present on the happy occasion were Mrs. E. B. Weston, Miss Gertrude Allen, Mrs. George Jenkins, Miss Winnie Jenkins, Miss Miss Evans, Mr. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Evans and Sheldon Evans.

PLANS FOR THE SUMMER.

Mrs. Harry Bishop leaves today for Santa Barbara, where she will join Mr. Bishop, and together they will motor to Los Angeles and other points of interest in the southern part of the State. Later they will go to Carmel-by-the-Sea for a few weeks stay.

In the early fall Mrs. Bishop plans to entertain quite extensively for her sisters and the Alice street home will be the scene of many smart affairs.

PRETTY WEDDING.

Miss Terence Florence Healy and Mr.

MRS. J. W. SWARD, Who Will Entertain for Mrs. Howard.

Hamtram Gray were married on Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents on Forty-first street. Rev. George W. White lead the service in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The couple will reside in Oakland.

WILL WED TOMORROW.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Jordan, who formerly resided at the Hotel Crillon, have been in Sacramento for some time and left there recently in their touring car for a trip to Lake Tahoe. They are accompanied by Mrs. W. C. Mason of Berkeley and will enjoy an outing of two weeks or more.

VISIT TO ALASKA.

A number of prominent Oakland and Berkeley people have just returned from an ideal trip to Alaska. They stopped for several days in Seattle and then sailed for the North. For the first time in many years, the passengers were able to see the great Muir glacier.

The ship went around the icebergs and our Californians enjoyed the delights of snowballing in June.

Mrs. A. L. Lawrence says the scenery is beyond description, but the towns seem altogether too modern to be pictureque. A place of interest to the travelers was the Greek church in Sitka, where one Madonna alone cost $25,000.

The Taku glacier is described as being one of the most beautiful sights witnessed by the travelers. Its coloring is remarkable, shading from a violet indigo to the palest blue.

Every little town has its newspaper and some of them are most curiously gotten up.

Among the party who enjoyed this pleasant journey to the North were Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Scott, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wellby, Mrs. Bill and Miss Bessie Bull, Arthur Bill, Mr. and Mrs. John of Berkley, and Mrs. Florence Brown.

WINS SUCCESS ABROAD.

Mme. Margaret Barry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Russell of this city, is winning success abroad, where her ability as a dramatic reader is being recognized by the best people. She is at present in London and has appeared before distinguished audiences, who have been lavish in their praise of the gifted Californian.

Carl Christensen went to Watsonville recently to visit his parents. He had just returned from a business trip to Michigan.

Eloping Husband Returns to His First Love

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., July 1.—Two octogenarians were reunited in Phillipsburg today, after being separated more than a score of years, following the elopement of the husband, who has now, at the age of 83, returned and taken back to wife his first love, who is 82.

William Kanper and Catherine Carling were married more than a half century ago, and reared a large family of children. It was while the family was apparently living happily together on a small farm near Phillipsburg, which they owned, that the husband, who was then 60 years old, became infatuated with a Phillipsburg woman of 21. They eloped and remained away together for a score or more of years.

Mrs. Kanper has been spending most of her time with her son in Phillipsburg, who is now the owner of the homestead farm. It became known a few days ago that the aged husband had been deserted by the other woman.

The old pair met at the home of their son in Phillipsburg, and their reunion took place almost immediately.

Elopement While Father Is Buying R. R. Ticket

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—Eluding her father while he was buying a ticket for her to go to Atlantic City with him, Miss Camille May Stromyer, who lives at 2316 Popular street, went to Camden with her mother, L. S. Brady, and was married there. When the father came from the ticket window, he could not find the pair.

This happened June 17, and at present Mr. and Mrs. Brady are at the Hotel Normandy, Scranton, on their honeymoon. They are expected to rejoin the bride's family, which is spending the summer at the shore, in a few days, and ask for a divorce.

Mr. Brady is only 19 years old, and was graduated from Miss Hill's School for Girls last month. His husband is a Yale graduate, who lives at Derby, Conn. The Rev. J. J. Burke, of Camden, performed the marriage ceremony.

Miss Widener Makes Debut

MISS ELEANOR WIDENER.

Miss Eleanor Elkins Widener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Widener, has just made her debut in society. She is well known in Philadelphia, and granddaughter of P. Newport and at all the large horse shows.

King Alfonso Attentive To the Daughter of Secretary Nagel

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Miss Hildie Nagel, eldest of the four daughters of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, is on an automobile tour in Spain and reports that King Alfonso is unusually cordial to Americans. The King met the party of which Miss Nagel is a member on a road outside Madrid, and stopped for an hour's talk. The following day he rode out in his automobile and met the party by appointment.

18 Girls With 18 Suitcases To Tour Europe

NEW YORK, July 1.—Eighteen young women start for Naples today with the intention of traveling abroad for two months with only such personal effects as can be carried in a suitcase for each person.

Only members of the family will witness the ceremony, which will be of the simplest character. Rev. Clinton Macom of Trinity church will read the beautiful Episcopal service.

The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Olive Powell, and the groom by Newton Coghill.

The ceremony will take place at 6 o'clock and the young couple will leave immediately for a honeymoon trip.

Miss Powell and her mother returned last evening from a visit of some months with friends in Victoria, B. C.

CLUB TO ENTERTAIN.

The Elsinore Yacht Club has sent out invitations for an informal "at home" to be given Friday evening, July 9. A pleasant evening will doubtless be enjoyed by those who will share the hospitality of the club.

WIDOW SUES STEP-Daughter for Husband's Gift

EASTON, Pa., July 1.—Mrs. Ethelia Carhart, widow of Jacob Carhart, who died four years ago, has sued to recover $290 from her stepdaughter, Mrs. Isabella Shimer, and her husband, Joseph Shimer, of this city.

When about to make a journey to the West twenty years ago, Carhart placed $420 in a safe and gave it to Mrs. Shimer, his daughter by his first wife, "to keep until I come for it" or "ask for it." He returned from the West and lived afterward for sixteen years. His burial expenses, $140, were paid out of the fund.

Mrs. Carhart's case was non-suited on the ground of the statute of limitations recently, but on Saturday Judge Scott made an order on a brief submitted by her counsel showing that the statute of limitations does not run, replacing the cause on the trial list.

The judge said the money was a gift to the decedent's daughter, but grants the

Love For Abandoned Babe Causes Mother To Confess

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., July 1.—Unable longer to resist the call of the mother love, Margaret Williamson, of Tioga county, went to Ralston yesterday and confessed to being the mother of the baby boy who, on the night of June 12, was deposited on the steps of a hotel there.

A young woman called at the home to which the baby was adopted and asked to see it. She smothered the child in kisses, then confessed to being the mother. Sending for Justice of the Peace Brandt, the young woman, who proved to be Miss Williamson, the daughter of highly respected parents residing above Roaring Branch, told her story.

Mayor Hodgehead and New Commissioners Take Oath of Office

OLD TOWN OF BERKELEY DIES AND A NEW FULL FLEDGED CITY BLOOMS

Mayor Ferrier Relinquishes Office and Hodgehead Takes Up the Reins of Municipal Government

BERKELEY, July 1.—The town of Berkeley passed away this morning to be succeeded by a full-fledged city, got up by a broad new charter and a new administration. The ceremonies attending the transition took place at 10 o'clock in the old chamber where the board of trustees have gathered in the past three of the new commission with commissioners moved with skill and vigor, and the press of a vigorous sort for the new order of things and men. Retiring Mayor Charles Ferrier transferred the charge he had directed for the past three years to his successor, and Mayor Hodgehead made a happy and felicitous address in accepting it. The two executives were loudly applauded.

In his inauguration address Mayor Hodgehead had some pretty things to say to the men who had preceded the present administration and he said them graciously and tactfully. Commissioner Hoff, who has had some experience in the past as a trustee completed the good work by proposing a resolution of appreciation and thanks for the efforts of previous office holders and it was adopted with vociferous cheering and enthusiasm. Then came the formal organization of the new commission with commissioners McClure and Berry, deriving the short terms of two years, and Commissioners Hoff and Norton the long term of four years. Commissioner Berry was formally elected vice-president, the commissioners officially declared their assignment of duties and posts, the new mechanism of municipal government was off with a snap and a spring ready to do business from the drop of the hat.

Will Meet in Morning

It was formally announced that meetings would be held in the morning and that the commissioners would begin their hours at 8:30 o'clock a.m.

The new officials caucused for nearly an hour before formally convening. As they filed into the council chamber retiring Mayor Ferrier was sitting in the mayor's chair and retiring Trustee Walter Gompertz had his usual seat about the big council table.

The new commissioners and the mayor tripped in briskly and took seats about the table with Gompertz. The audience was agape with interest, but it was all very formal and prosaic. Mayor Ferrier rapped his gavel for order, Mayor Hodgehead bowed his head in recognition that he was about to be addressed and Mayor Gompertz sat.

"Mr. Hodgehead, I now have the honor of handing you this emblem of authority, not doubting but that you will use it with equal credit to yourself and honor to your associates as well as the people of Berkeley."

"I feel assured that the affairs of our new city will be in good hands and that Berkeley will continue to advance until the entire "east side" of the bay will be under its government. You will always find me ready to assist you in any way that lies in my power. To me the very sound of the name Berkeley carries charm and inspiration."

When the applause had subsided Mayor Hodgehead arose and said in reply:

Hodgehead's Reply

"I am deeply sensible of the responsibility

The guest list included the members of the Club Club.

Mrs. Zora Green Radcliffe and Miss Lucy Shreve will leave tomorrow for Lake Tahoe, where they will spend a month at Camp Meana Villa.

Mrs. Edith Sullivan and Miss Ellen O'Sullivan are expected home from Europe tomorrow. They have been abroad seven months and arrived in New York last week. Miss Sullivan will return to the home of her mother, Mrs. J. J. Tobin, on Alameda avenue, and Miss O'Sullivan will go to her sister's home in Piedmont.

Charles Bradford and Grover Clark, who have been at Holt, San Joaquin county, for the last two or three weeks, have returned to their homes in this city.

Miss Isabel Curtis has gone to Shasta for a couple of weeks, though it is probable that she will stay until August.

At the first meeting of the Alameda district executive board of the Federation of Women's Clubs on Tuesday, the officers decided to devote one day in the year to federation work and another to art. Other plans for the year's work were discussed and chairmen were appointed:

Art—Miss F. Soule Campbell, Twentieth Century Club of Berkeley.

Club extension—Mrs. Fisher Clarke, Philanthropic Club of Stockton.

Civic—Mrs. Clara M. Partridge, School Woman's Club of Berkeley.

Civics—Mrs. J. E. Thorne, County Club of Washington township.

Forestry—Mrs. M. G. Abbott, Anti-

The other department chairmen will be appointed by the district president, Mrs. Core E. Jones, within the coming few weeks.

The committees on reciprocity, information and literature have been abolished in the districts and combined in the State Federation under one department under Mrs. B. F. Walton of the northern district.

The meeting was held at Pythian Castle in Oakland and was presided over by Mrs. Jones.

Miss Ida Fattman, whose marriage to R. Duncan Gatewood, naval constructor at Mare Island, will take place late in the summer, has been ill for the past week and is now convalescing. She and Mr. Gatewood will leave Friday or Saturday for Mountain View, where they will be the home guests of C. G. Morgan. Mr. Gatewood will return the first of the week, but his fiancee will remain all week and possibly longer.

The bride wore a pretty white lingerie gown and her sister-in-law, Mrs. N. Kerman, who attended as matron of honor, wore a gown of light blue voile over silk. N. Kerman acted as best man.

A wedding breakfast in this city followed the ceremony and afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Maybee left in their launch. Mrs. Maybee wore a jaunty white sailor suit for a gulf-air gown.

Mrs. James E. Higgins was a luncheon hostess yesterday in honor of her sister, Mrs. C. H. Chapel, who will leave for her Eastern home next week. Mrs. Chapel came to this city a short time ago from an extended trip to the Hawaiian Islands and the Orient. She makes her home in Chicago, and her many Alameda friends regret her departure.

The luncheon was most informal and only a few intimate friends were asked.

LACK OF LIGHTS CAUSE DAMAGE TO AUTOMOBILE

BERKELEY, July 1.—Dr. A. F. Gilligan made complaint to the police this morning that he had run his auto into a sewer trench on the east side of Telegraph Avenue. The accident occurred just west of the intersection of Telegraph and Franklin. Gilligan says the mudguard on the right side was broken and he narrowly escaped injury in the mix-up.

'BOOST' KEYNOTE OF SPEECHES AT BANQUET

"Is Alameda Worth While?" Proved in Affirmative by Business Men

MAYOR NOY TELLS OF INCREASED ASSESSMENT

Imitate Los Angeles in Advertising Advantages of Isle City, Advises Hammond

ALAMEDA, July 1.—"Is Alameda Worth While?" was proved strongly in the affirmative by the enthusiastic speakers at the business men's dinner at the Hotel Crescent last night, when several prominent merchants and professional men arose and explained why this city was the best on earth, why its commercial possibilities were becoming more appreciated and why it was a good place to live and do business in. This is the first of a series of monthly meetings to be held for the purpose of drawing the business men together.

As an evidence of the awakened spirit of progress in this city seventy people were present at the table, a much larger number than ever attended a similar informal dinner of the kind before.

Dr. D'Evelyn Toastmaster

Dr. F. W. D'Evelyn, as chairman and toastmaster, opened the speechmaking campaign by declaring that twice as many attended the banquet as had been expected.

"This shows that we know not what the day may bring forth and suggests possibilities for the future that we may not even dream of at the present time. The time of inactivity has passed and Alameda must progress and the necessities of the city must be recognized."

"Organization, co-operation and vitality are the three chief needs to build up the city and to prove to strangers and ourselves that Alameda is worth while."

Mayor Noy Speaks

In answering to his name Mayor W. H.

Noy said he could prove the advancement of the city during the past decade by quoting a few figures. He mentioned the assessed valuation in 1900 was $10,000,000 while in 1909 it is $19,000,000, proving the property values had doubled in ten years.

Quoting the building permits he said that 55 new houses had been erected within the past two months and the sum of $145,923 had been expended for improvements in the same time.

Mayor Noy declared himself to be a strong supporter of improvement clubs, asserting that it was through these clubs that civic improvements were brought before the people and finally approved by the Council.

Councilman "Billy" Hammond woke up the diners when he started in to get busy, not using flowery language, but making his points with snap and directness.

Boost, Boost, Boost!

"We've got to get together here in this city and follow the example of the Southern California cities, whose motto is 'Boost, boost, boost,' all the time. They never let up, and when you meet a man from Southern California, no matter where he immediately begins to boost for his home town with all his might."

"He don't follow our example and hide his head with shame when his city is mentioned, not he, even if his little home is only a big as a pocket handkerchief. He will sell you a lot there if you don't break away and save yourself."

The meeting was held at Python Castle in Oakland and was presided over by Mrs. Jones.

Urge Protection Against Fakes

"I believe the salvation of the city depends on the North side and I am for the Atlantic avenue proposition good and strong. I believe that this boulevard is for the interests of the whole city and I think the city as a whole should be taxed for it, not just that section, and tax the people who are making a kick out of the right."

Gone With All His Personal Effects

SAN FRANCISCO. July 1.—After selling all of her husband's clothes and obtaining money sufficient to take her away, Mrs. A. S. Harvey, of 507 Shotwell street deserted her spouse some time yesterday, and the latter has asked the police to arrest her on sight.

Harvey is a carpenter employed by Robinson & Gillespie, and when he returned home last evening he discovered a note from his wife, in which she told him that she was tired of living with him, and that in order to obtain money she had stolen all of his personal effects. She formerly worked in Seattle, and he believes she will make an effort to return at once to the northern city. The police have been warned to watch all steamers and Harvey declares that as he has lost all the clothes on his boat left to him, wherever he was nearly possessed of a considerable wardrobe, he desires his wife's return for more reasons than one.

BILLY PAPKE IS NOW IN THE BEST CONDITION OF HIS CAREER

STANLEY KETCHEL CARRIES TINY SHOE FOR A MASCOT

Michigander Believes He Can Ward Off Jinx With Baby Britt's Shoe--Papke Confid in Face of Battling Odds.

By EDDIE SMITH.

KED the other day if he was superstitious regarding the outcome of his contests and at the many little trifles that usually bother the fighters haunted him. Stanley Ketchel answered in a most positive manner. "No, I could say not, for so long as these old boys hold out," and he pointed to the healthy-looking maulers "I shall not worry much about the hoo-doo or jinx that you hear so much about."

Ketchel no doubt meant it when he said that he had little regard for the jinx and talk of room 13 giving one bad luck, but the fact remains that since taking up with V. W. Britt the assassin has carried a shoe from the foot of the heel to the Britt family.

Shortly after picking up with Willie Britt, Ketchel met the young Miss Britt, and immediately took a great shine to the little lady, and when he went into the ring for the first contest with Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, which was the most important battle he had entered into up to that time, he carried with him, as mascot, to ward off the mysterious Mr. Jinx, a shoe from the tiny foot of the young Britt lady, and he won.

Do you think Ketchel would give that shoe up? Well if you do, the mistake is all your own, for the Michigander would as soon give up a weasel's tail as the little luck-shoe. I

Billy Papke could but sneak into the home of the assassin and sneak that shoe away. It would accomplish something that would make the stealing of the Stanford Cup look like a small nothing.

Papke could make no stronger play for victory than the stealing of that shoe, but if close watch can keep it, Ketchel will have the luck-producer when he steps into the ring. But you know, Ketchel is not a bit superstitious—oh, no, nothing like that; this shoe business is just a fad a little out of the ordinary. No, he's not superstitious, but he would just throw a fit if anyone made a get-away with the lucky charm.

STANLEY KETCHEL.

Out of Illinois the young giant is working as hard as for few of his fights and nothing seems to bother him, although it has been hinted by a few that he is a bit careless and may prove just a bit over-confident. In his training there is no denying the fact that Ketchel certainly looks good, however, and his work is the most impressive I have ever seen.

Has Wonderful Punch

Just imagine if you can a fighter who is able to drop one of his sparring partners most any time he sees fit and with all the ease and grace of a real champion. Ketchel is the first fighter since the palmy days of Fitzsimmons who has been able to do this trick, and there can be no denying the fact that he is the greatest hitter in the game today.

White Ketchel is hovering about the 160-pound mark and making the weight with such ease that there is no worry as to the camp regarding the weighing, many of his friends would like to see him four or five pounds heavier, and this is the only thing that can be criticized in the condition of the fighter. He is a trifle light and there is no use denying it, and the fact that he may be a trifle light is an indication of poor condition that has led the Papke backers to have more confidence.

Ketchel in his training certainly looks great just the same, and a look at the punch chart shows that he is ready for a tough fight.

Papke Extremely Confident

Out at the Seal Rock House Billy Papke is doing his best to keep right on the edge that he has worked up to. It is not a proposition of acquiring condition with the Thunderbolt, it is a case of holding what he has without going stale before the battle. Even though the betting of the men who follow the game closely gives the Illinois man only a one to two chance, his confidence has not wavered, and he announced yesterday that he fully expected to be on the short end of the betting at that price.

Way down Papke expected to be a 10 to 7 or a 10 to 6 short end, and the fact that so much Ketchel money has been coming in that the Michigan braves Mr. Papke. He just can't understand the betting. Don't let this lead you to believe that Papke is not confident, though, for he is one of the most confident short-enders that I have ever seen.

Here is the idea. Place yourself in the position of Papke; he has all sorts of ways figured out whereby he will beat Ketchel; he has studied the style of his opponent; he looks over the records of the two men and says to himself, "I don't see how I can lose in my present condition, but still the men who bet their money, and who generally are supposed to be wise ring judges, say I'm the most convincing argument in the world that he is ready for a tough fight."

Papke Weighing More

You see Papke does not understand the feeling of the man who looks the things over with cold deliberation. He can only see where he figures, and the chances he sees for victory are so bright that he has no understanding of missing them or the other fellow having a few counters for his new tricks. At any rate Papke is well satisfied with his condition, and the best proof I can give you, Mr. Reader, that Papke is in fine fettle is the fact that, with all his hard training, he is now weighing 163 pounds, with nothing but good, hard flesh on his bones, while for the last Ketchel contest he weighed 164 pounds when he started training and the day of the fight about 162 pounds.

This is out of the physical fitness of the German, and he can have no kick as to his condition if he enters the ring in the condition he is right at the present time. All Papke has to do is to take things easy and keep right until ring time to be at his best.

Ketchel's Auto Accident

Ketchel is such a sensational fellow that everything he enters into brings him notoriety, sometimes desired and sometimes otherwise. Last evening after his work at the training quarters he agreed to drive Mrs. Willie Britt, who had been to the training quarters to see her husband, and the illustrious manager down town in his automobile, and after supper the three started for the Britt home.

At the corner of Oak and Broderick streets the machine, which was no doubt traveling at a rapid rate of speed, took a plunge into a ditch which had been dug during the day time, and before the fighter could stop it considerable damage was done. The occupants of the car were unharmed and unscathed, but one of the morning papers printed the story in a sensational manner and suggested that Britt and Ketchel had taken a young lady for a ride. There was to be nothing to the story except that Ketchel was riding Mr. and Mrs. Britt home in his fast racer, and like a fool, raced at high speed over ground he was unfamiliar with.

Johnson Beats Ross

The fact that Jack Johnson did not put Tony Ross away last evening in their six-round battle at Pittsburgh is a boost to Al Kaufman who was roasted for not putting Ross out in ten rounds, and it also shows that Johnson is not the devil some would suppose.

Johnson, according to the dispatches, out-boxed and out-fought the Italian from the jump, but was unable to put him away. The champion put the white man down several times and made a good showing throughout the contest, even though his condition was not the best.

Ross is a tough fellow than some of the critics would have you believe, at that, and he will beat many of the aspiring heavies before he is finally put out of the game. Johnson will soon leave the East for the coast and he will get down to training as soon as possible after landing here.

Tennis Tournament Draws Enthusiasts

LONG BEACH, Cal., July 1.—A throng of tennis enthusiasts witnessed the opening of the coast championship doubles here today. The principal event is the match to be played this afternoon between Miss May Sutton and Miss Marion Brown.

Miss Sutton's sister, Mrs. B. O. Bruce, is matched with Mrs. Farquharson, the second and third rounds of the men's doubles will be played tomorrow. The finals for both men and women to figure that Ketchel has an excellent opportunity to grab the heavyweight championship.

If Ketchel defeats Johnson in their forthcoming fight, it is not believed that Jim Jeffries will submit a challenge to the new champion, as he has repeatedly said that he would fight Johnson only because he desired the championship to remain with a white man. Also there is considerable doubt as to Jeffries ever entering the ring under any circumstances.

It is fast rounding in great form. It is possible that the promoter of the new Coast champion will wire East for a match with de Oro.

6 Stocktonians Played At Same Time With St. Louis Nationals

It is not generally known, but it is a fact just the same, that Eagan, Danny Shay, Durham, Dusty Miller, Carroll and Mertes all of whom are now members of the Stockton club, played at the same time with the St. Louis Nationals. The fans will remember Durham as the one who pitched against Henderson a week ago last Sunday and twirled his team mates to victory by the score of 2 to 1. The rest of the Millers are too well known to need comment except perhaps Eagan, who has made a great record in the box so far this season.

Athletic Sports in Alameda on Fourth

Great preparations are being made by the Alameda chamber of commerce for an Independence Day celebration. In addition to the great water carnival on the tidal canal, a big field day will mark the opening of the new public playgrounds and athletic field in Lincoln park. A beautiful quarter mile track has been built, and it will have its first meet next Monday. The following program has been arranged: 50 yard dash, for grammar schools; 100 yard dash, open handicap, 200 yard dash, open; 440 yard dash, open; 880 yard run, open; 1000 yard hurdles, open; 12 pound shot put, 55 pound weight, high jump, running broad jump and pole vault, all open.

There will also be a 10 mile road race, which will finish on the track. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be presented to the winners.

In addition to this, there will be a one mile relay race for four men, open to clubs and schools, the organization winning to receive a silver cup and the individuals that run each a medal. The meet is open to all amateurs registered in the Pacific athletic association. All the best men on the coast have been invited to participate. Entries close July 3 with E. Macauley, Alameda.

McGraw Wants Catcher Bowerman Back Again

NEW YORK, July 1.—Manager McGraw of the New York National League baseball club is negotiating with the Boston Nationals for the return of Catcher Frank Bowerman, who was a star of several seasons under McGraw. In the meantime it is understood that Boston will acquire several of the New York players in exchange for Bowerman and that the big catcher's demands concerning salary have been met at least at present. It is believed that the deal will be consummated within a day or two.

BOSTON, July 1.—The long looked for shake-up in the Boston Nationals at last has started. The local management has given all the men on the team to understand that they must make good or waivers and unconditional releases would be in order. Yesterday the local management gave Ritchey and Beaumont their unconditional releases.

FOREST HILL, July 1.—What is be-fored to be a world's record for strikeouts was established here Sunday, when Pitcher McElroy of the Forest Hill team fanned 26 batters on the Michigan Bluff team. Only 29 men faced McElroy during the game, two of them making first on errors. The Bluffers were shut out by a score of 6 to 0 without a hit. McElroy is 20 years old and more than six feet tall. He clerks in a grocery store.

Young Herman won the decision from Tom Benson in the third round. Ed Band won from Ed Brown in four rounds, decision.

C. Sandberg knocked out L. J. Hill in half a round. The punch came square on the jaw. Sandberg is a comer.

At Sage knocked out Jockey Wakeman in the second round.

There were two wrestling matches. In the first Leo O'Connor secured two falls over Russell H. Dryberg and H. Thompson wrestled to a draw, no falls being secured.

Tom O'Hara, the boxing instructor of the Reliance Club, and Harry Baker gave an exhibition. Eddie Smith acted as referee and H. Tressel and E. J. Grindley were the judges.

JOHNSON'S SHOWING BOOSTS KETCHEL'S STOCK

NEW YORK, July 1.—The failure of Jack Johnson to knock out Tony Ross in six rounds at Pittsburgh last night caused much comment in New York sporting circles and caused the betting on Stockton Ketchel to materially improve. While the reports show that the black champion gave his fourth rate antagonist a sound drubbing, it was confidently expected that Johnson would be able to put him out in any one of the six rounds. His failure to do so, coupled with his recent encounter with Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, who was decisively beaten by Ketchel, caused sporting men to figure that Ketchel has an excellent opportunity to grab the heavyweight championship.

If Ketchel defeats Johnson in their forthcoming fight, it is not believed that Jim Jeffries will submit a challenge to the new champion, as he has repeatedly said that he would fight Johnson only because he desired the championship to remain with a white man. NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 1. — This is the warning which President Taft gave the Republicans in his address at the commencement yesterday.

You went south of the Mason and Dixon line to get a Secretary of War to give a degree to. It is well that you did, because he is going to build the Panama canal, and other universities will follow where you go in early.

"One of the difficulties that has come up is where Brother Dickinson is now stationed in the Philippines, and he has a temporary residence, what a discussion as to what constituted an orthodox Democrat and whether he really ought to be counted as a Democrat if he allowed himself to go into a Republican cabinet. Well, when you come to discuss what is a Democrat these days, you are presented with very much the same difficulty that I have before me now in giving certain rules for the construction of the pure food law as to what whisky is."

"Recalled" Democrat

"They say there is 'straight' whisky, and then there is 'recalled' whisky, and then there is 'imitation' whisky. Now, I speak with a good deal of hesitancy in saying whether my friend Dickinson is a 'straight' Democrat or a 'recalled' Democrat. I would not dare to say in his presence that he was an 'imitation' Democrat.

"In suggesting a difference among Democrats I am far from being difficult on our side. I remember in 1904 that Charles Francis Adams gave me a reason for the election of the Democratic candidate over the Republican candidate. He said that one of the essentials of a successful free government was an able patriotic and efficient opposition, and that as the Democratic party had utterly failed in reaching that ideal he was in favor of putting the Republican party in that place. Now I venture to say that while that may not be the reason which shall move the American people, it is true that if the Republican party does not live up to its promises and what the people expect of it, it will be relegated to a position like that of his majesty's opposition. And therefore I may say by way of caveat that we have troubles of our own."
